

Aboriginal Cultural Canvas

For all projects at The Australian Centre for Social Innovation

We acknowledge the traditional custodians and owners of the land we work and live on. We pay our respect to Elders of the past, present and future. We are committed to creating a better future for all.

Lands you'll work on

1. Where will the project take place?

2. Who are the traditional custodians and owners of the lands?

3. What considerations should be made around Welcome to Country? or Acknowledgement of Country?

4. Craft your written and spoken acknowledgement here:

What we've learned is important

Tell great stories

We will create space for visual learning, tactile sharing and storytelling.

Further Self-determination

We believe projects should be driven, governed and owned by community; we respect data sovereignty and cultural IP.

Relationships first

We seek to earn trust and setup work to be flexible with timelines and pace.

Strengthen what's been started

We will recognise diversity, listen to experience and build upon existing evidence.

See the connection

We aim to respond to needs of the now and plan for a sustainable, self-determined future.

Local Connections

Who should we connect with and why?

Organisations

Community Members

Community Leaders or Elders

Potential Expert Informants

Other?

Project Team

1 Who is on the project?

2 What key cultural considerations should be made around :

- The Project Team?
- Peer Co-designers
- Respondents and participants
- Cultural Connector Support

Key Project Milestones

1. What are the key transition points in the project?

2. When and how will you involve local connections?

Context

What historical context or recent events should we keep in mind?

Question Corner

What questions are you holding? Who can help you answer them or learn?
